

Buffalo Bills Throwback
a free hand knitting chart
from Mandy Power
www.myzigzagstitch.com

This Buffalo Bills logo was used as the official team logo from 1962 to 1973. The team will occasionally wear their "throwback" uniforms today, with this buffalo on the helmet.

You can insert this motif into any knitted items using the intarsia method.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29
28																														28
27																														27
26																														26
25																														25
24																														24
23																														23
22																														22
21																														21
20																														20
19																														19
18																														18
17																														17
16																														16
15																														15
14																														14
13																														13
12																														12
11																														11
10																														10
9																														9
8																														8
7																														7
6																														6
5																														5
4																														4
3																														3
2																														2
1																														1
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29

Photo © Mandy Powers, 2008.
 This chart is strictly for personal use.
 You may not sell or otherwise profit from items you make using this pattern.
www.myzigzagstitch.com
mandy@myzigzagstitch.com